

Accessibility Feature of this Site.

If you have trouble reading the print on Web pages, you can easily change the size of the font to fit your needs.

If you have a wheel mouse hold and keep down the control (Ctrl) key and then turn the wheel on your mouse to adjust the size of the text until it fits your requirements. To fit page to full screen hit the F11 key.

Changing font sizes in your web browser is easy. Instructions will vary from browser to browser. If you get really stuck, go to your browser's help menu (usually the button furthest right in any program). From there you should be able to get help on any problem you have.

MS Internet Explorer Version 5 (and higher)

- From the menu bar at the top, pull down the View menu.
- Select Text Size.
- There are 5 choices, ranging from smallest to largest.
- Select a new font style.
- Some experimentation might be necessary.

MS Internet Explorer Version 4

- From the menu bar at the top, pull down the View menu.
- Select Internet Options.
- Click on the Font button that is near the bottom.
- Use the pull-down Font Size menu to select a new size. There are 5 choices, ranging from smallest to largest.
- Use the pull-down Proportional Font menu to select a new font style.
- When you've made your selections, click on the OK button.
Some experimentation is necessary.

Netscape Version 6 (and higher)

- From the menu bar at the top, pull down the Edit menu.
- Select Preferences.
- Click on Fonts, which is listed under Appearances.
- Choose a font size from the options listed.
- Click on the desired font size from the pull-down menu.
- Click OK.
- You have many options when it comes to font size. Try a couple of different sizes in order to determine the best for you.

AOL Version 4.0 (and higher)

- Under My AOL in the AOL Toolbar, select Preferences.
- Then click on the WWW icon in the scrolling list on the left.
- On the right, click on Advanced Settings. A dialog box will appear with a collecting of controls on the right and a column of options on the left.
- Select the option called Browser Display on the left.
- You can set the Text Size to Large or Largest for more comfortable reading.
- Click the OK button in the Advanced Settings dialog box and then click the OK button in the Preferences dialog box to make your new settings take effect.

FireFox Version 1.0 (and higher)

- On the browser menu bar click View.
- Go to text size.
- Place your mouse cursor on the words Text Size. Notice that you now have 3 size choices - Increase, decrease or normal.
- Click on Increase.
- You can change your font size up to 3 levels larger or smaller than the normal font size